

Escape From Auschwitz

On 6 November 1942 70 captured Red Army soldiers staged an extraordinary mass escape from Auschwitz. Among these men was prisoner number 1418 Andrey Pogozhev. He survived, and this is his story. Pogozhev was caught by the Germans in 1941 and was sent to Auschwitz. The fact that Pogozhev survived the appalling conditions in the camp is remarkable in itself. That he should also have taken part in one of the few successful escapes makes his gripping narrative rare indeed. His description of the escape and his subsequent journey as a fugitive to the east, through the Carpathian mountains into the Ukraine, is unforgettable reading.

- 3 min - Uploaded by Jaime Johnson When I was a kid in the late 60s or early 70s (probably 10 or 12), I used to always look up to Dr. Rudolf Vrba, lives in Vancouver, British Columbia where he is Professor Emeritus of Pharmacology at the University of British Columbia. He has testified as Kazimierz Piechowski was a Polish engineer, a Boy Scout during the Second Polish Republic, He was best known for his escape from Auschwitz I, along with three other prisoners, all dressed as members of the SS-Totenkopfverbände, fully The death factory at Auschwitz was a closely guarded secret of the Third Reich until two men, Rudolph Vrba and Alfred Wetzler, escaped to On April 7, 1944, two Slovakian Jews, twenty-six-year-old Alfred Wetzler and twenty-year-old Rudolf Vrba, escaped from Auschwitz. The SS guards obeyed and the car drove to freedom allowing the men to become four of only 144 prisoners to successfully escape Auschwitz. The Nazis were incensed, says Piechowski. Two Auschwitz prisoners were determined to expose the horrors of the Nazi genocide. - 8 min - Uploaded by C Prochownik A short promotional pilot film, 2011 Near the end of WWII, two American brothers, Artur and Jerzy Bielecki escaped from Auschwitz with Jewish girlfriend Cyla one of the most incredible concentration camp escape stories of World War - 24 min - Uploaded by alterglobalization These are the men and women who saw it all. Extraordinary, powerful first-hand accounts of the Together, they probed Auschwitz for weaknesses, formulating escape plans that they had to cautiously reject. Then, one day, Fred Wetzler approached Rudi - 13 min - Uploaded by Escaperocketgames Escape From Auschwitz in Poland walkthrough Escape From Auschwitz in Poland EightGames But two Auschwitz prisoners, Rudolph Vrba and Alfred Wetzler, were determined to expose the To do that, they had to escape from the heavily-guarded camp. Pilecki could also better survive escape than most, as he could rely on help of random people while putting a distance between Auschwitz and himself. This was That he escaped from Auschwitz is not so important, as how he entered this hell: he did so on his own will. In 1940, Pilecki presented to his superiors a plan The Auschwitz commandant wrote in July 1940 to the commander of SS and police Every prisoner who manages to escape can count on all possible help as